'REPUBLICANS ARE READY,' CAPTAIN FREDERICKS SAYS

PARTY WILL TRIUMPH AT POLLS, HE AVERS

Standard Bearer Declares His Creed in Interview

"Whole People's Good," Is the Object He Holds to

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Captain John D. Fredericks, the standard bearer chosen by the Republican party at the primary election on August 25 was found by a TRIBUNE reporter at his desk today in the district attorney's office in the Los Angeles hall of records.

The waiting room and the library were filled with men and women anxious to advise and confer with the "next governor of California." The captain is always a busy man, so when the writer phoned, asking what time would suit the captain's leisure he was informed one time was as good as another, that I would have to take my chances. So I took my chances and found the captain at his desk and before him on every side were sheafs of telegrams and piles of letters. The captain was rapidly dictating characteristic replies to these. He greeted the writer with the cardinal smile and the hearty hand-clasp that won him so many warm admirers during his campaign. He continued his dictation, and the manner in which he spoke the following words was so convincing that I asked permission to copy them.

"THE NOMINATION HAS PLACED A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY UPON ME WHICH I SHALL NOT SHRINK. CALIFORNIA'S INTERESTS AND INDUSTRY DEMAND THE SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS, PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY WHICH OUR PARTY ALWAYS HAS FURNISHED. THE PEOPLE ARE READY TO ENTRUST THE REPUBLICAN PARTY WITH POWER. WE ARE READY FOR THE TRUST."

SPIRIT OF SUCCESS.
After copying the above, the reporter asked Captain Fredericks how he was pleased with the result of the primary election.

"As far as it affected me personally," replied the captain, "I am wholly satisfied."

Congressmen Labor on Internal Revenue Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Spurred by President Wilson's appeal for emergency legislation the House Ways and Means committee today worked on plans for a special internal revenue bill to raise $100,000,000 to meet the loss in custom receipts caused by war. Lists of articles suggested for the special tax levy were considered by the committee and as soon as they complete their program it will be submitted to the Treasury Department. The amount of money to be produced on each article and the rate will be fixed when the bill will be introduced in the House for immediate action.

Articles suggested as special revenue producers included beer, domestic wines, whisky, tobacco, chewing gum, proprietary articles, soft drinks, playing cards, railroad and amusement tickets and gasoline.

DUTCH ARMY IS EQUIPPED WITH CIGARS FOR WAR

By Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 5.—The Dutch army believes it may rightfully boast of being the best equipped army in Europe, so far as smoking comforts go. The Boy Scouts during the first days of mobilization went all over the city of Amsterdam with barrows, gathering cigars for the soldiers. The total was too big to count, but within two hours on one day more than 20,000 cigars were gathered.

POPE SEEKS PEACE

His Elevation to Vatican Is Attributed to His Diplomatic Zeal.

ROME, Sept. 4 4:45 p. m., via Paris, Sept. 5, 9:30 a. m.—It was related here today that in conversations before his election Pope Benedict XV. repeatedly expressed his belief in the necessity that the pontiff should intervene with an appeal for peace, not in an evangelical form, but in precise diplomatic action.

"The pope," he is quoted as saying, "must actually place himself amidst the combatants instead of keeping away and preaching peace and concord from a distance."

It is asserted that he expressed these ideas in the conclave with Genoa tenacity but at the same time showing such absolute neutrality toward the belligerents that it brought about his election as pontiff.

Urge Wilson to Fix Day of Peace Prayer

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Many requests have been received at the White House that President Wilson designate a day for peace prayer in Europe. No action has been taken. Secretary Bryan today asked Congress for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to meet extra expenses of the diplomatic and consular services in caring for the interests of the warring nations of Europe at various capitals where they have been placed in charge of the United States.

British Deny Charge of Dum-Dum Bullets

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 5.—The British government today made official denial to the German charges that dum dum bullets had been found on English and French prisoners.

Red Cross to Solicit Funds in U. S. Senate

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Washington Red Cross workers organized today for their campaign in the favor of peace in Europe. They will solicit contributions among the nation's lawmakers for the war fund. An ancient rule prohibiting soliciting or the posting of appeals in the Senate and of the Capitol has been suspended to expedite the Red Cross campaign.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 5, 8 a. m.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Mail, dated Friday, says:
"Private letters show that, owing to the fact that many German doctors are at the front, Berlin is finding it difficult to cope with an outbreak of typhoid and cholera there."

"Enormous numbers of wounded are arriving at Vienna, where, owing to the meat famine, the people have been compelled to become vegetarians."

No News of Japan's Sea and Land Moves

By Associated Press.
PEKING, Sept. 5.—Telegraphic communication with Tsing-Tau having been interrupted, no news has been received from the sea port of the German territory of Kiaow Chow concerning the progress of the Japanese sea and land movements against that place. The Japanese and British representatives here are withholding information they may have concerning what is transpiring before Tsing-Tau. In spite of instructions to all Chinese officials in Shan Tung province to keep Peking advised, no information whatever has come through the Chinese government.

Germans Surprised and "Mowed Down"

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 5.—How a German force of 5000 men mowed down the French at Lunville in the French territory was surprised and mowed down by the French artillery has been related to a correspondent of the Journal at Cete by the German commander who is now a prisoner at Cete.

The Germans were surprised by the French artillery, the German officer relates, which bombarded them for two hours with such deadly force that only 400 men were left.

The commander held a conference with 21 officers and non-commissioned officers remaining and it was unanimously decided to hoist the white flag, all resistance having become useless.

Amazons of Russia Don Czar's Uniform

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 5.—A Petrograd correspondent of the Times telegraphs a story that two daughters of General Tomilovsky, one of the Russian commanders, have volunteered for the war. In compliance with their persistent request they have been permitted to dress themselves in soldiers' uniform and they will be sent to advanced positions.

Kaiser Loses Chance of Nobel Peace Prize

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 5.—A dispatch to the Express from Stockholm says that the name of the German emperor has been stricken from the list of nominations for the next Nobel peace prize.

Agreement of Nations to Be in Effect for One Year

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 5, 3:45 p. m.—Russia, Great Britain and France today signed an agreement that none of the three would make peace without the consent of all three nations.

Following is the text of the protocol signed today by representatives of Russia, Great Britain and France:

"The undersigned, duly authorized thereto by their respective governments hereby declare as follows:
"The British, French and Russian governments mutually engage not to conclude peace separately during the present war. The three governments agree that when the terms of peace come to be discussed no one of the allies will demand conditions of peace without the previous agreement of each of the other allies."

"In faith whereof, the undersigned have signed this declaration and have affixed thereto their seals."

Italian Mobilization Order Is Expected

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 5, 12:05 p. m.—A dispatch to the Midi from Rome under today's date, says:
"The order for a general mobilization of Italian forces was still unsigned at the moment of telegraphing, but it is expected today. The mobilization by individual summons is less active."

Montenegrins Occupy Coast of Dalmatia

By Associated Press.
ROME via Paris, Sept. 5, 11:40 a. m.—A telegram from Sanghvianni, in Albania, says that Montenegrin troops led by General Martinovich and Bucovich have occupied a strip of Austrian territory between the Montenegrin frontier and the sea as far north as Budus, ten miles southeast of Cattaro. The advance guards have arrived near Cattaro, which the Montenegrins are bent upon taking with the assistance of French and British warships.

New French "Capital" Become Overcrowded

By Associated Press.
BORDEAUX, Sept. 4, via Paris, Sept. 5, 1:30 p. m.—This city has become overcrowded through the arrival of the members of the government, foreign legations, newspapermen and many travelers. The hotels, restaurants and the street cars are packed with people. Rooms in the town section have been requisitioned for the use of offices of the government and the usual occupants were forced to vacate. The staffs of the embassies have located at Arcachon, a popular summer resort 25 miles southwest of this city.

TEUTON ENEMY EXECUTES TURNING MOVEMENT AND PASSES BY THE CAPITAL

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 5, 3:35 p. m.—It has become apparent to observers here that the Germans do not intend to engage the allied armies sent to meet them northwest of Paris. The enemy evidently is making an extended turning movement.

RESIST GERMANS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 5, 5:30 p. m.—Confidence of the Parisians in the ability of the allied armies to prevent the Germans entering or even investing the city increases daily. The military governor who is in sole command since the departure of President Poincare and the cabinet has taken every precaution for defense against attack.

Large composite armies occupy excellent positions where they are prepared to meet the power of the artillery the Germans are bringing, and the situation generally is regarded as favorable to the allies.

After the first exodus of women and children, which was recommended by the authorities, calm reigned and the citizens expressed their assurances.

GREAT CLIMAX DUE.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 5, 1:30 p. m.—The first great climax of the campaign of the allies against Germany, waged so relentlessly for weeks past in Northern France, will not now be long delayed, according to opinion in London. But with which side will rest the real advantage is still entirely a matter of speculation.

The first official communication from Bordeaux, the new seat of the French government, speaks of the German movement on Paris as having been diverted to the eastward, in which direction the invaders have reached La Forte Sous Jouarre, some thirty miles east of Paris. This would seem to confirm the German announcement that the allied forces have been driven back to, and in some cases across the River Marne.

GERMANS TWENTY MILES FROM PARIS.

According to other sources of information, the German troops are much nearer Paris than has been expected officially; they are said to be within a few miles of Chantilly, twenty miles north of the capital.

The German general staff has moved from Brussels to Mons, Belgium, nearer the scene of operations, and Austrian soldiers apparently have been brought from Lorraine to the western theater of the war to fill the enormous gaps in the ranks of their allies, the Germans.

LEAVES PARIS ON RIGHT.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 5, 3:15 p. m.—An official announcement says: "The enemy is pursuing his wide movement. He continues to leave the entrenched camp of Paris on his right and march in a southeast direction."

BELGIAN CITY DESTROYED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 5, 8:12 a. m.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam reports that Termonde, sixteen miles east by south of Ghent, has been hastily destroyed and that railway communication is interrupted.

PLAN "GRAND ASSAULT."

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 5, 10:15 a. m.—The English public, hungry for news of the operations of the allied armies in the western theater of war, had to content today itself with the brief official communications issued from Paris and Bordeaux. These only whetted the appetite.

Military experts believe the Germans are preparing for a grand assault on Paris in the hope of battering down the defenses of the capital. This is because the investment of Paris, while the huge mobile army of LONDON, Sept. 5, 6:20 p. m.—The Rome correspondent of the Evening Star telegraphs a dispatch from Vienna saying that the Russians have surrounded the Austrians at Lublin, Russian Poland. The Germans who were rushed from Belgium to reinforce the Austrians arrived too late.

RUSH REINFORCEMENTS.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 5, via London, 12:33 p. m.—Five German army corps have arrived at the Vistula river, according to the Rome correspondent of the Paris Matin. These corps are mostly from Belgium and the north of France, the correspondent says, and were brought up to oppose the advance of the Russians.

25,000 LEFT ON FIELD.

By Associated Press.

ROME via Paris, Sept. 5, 8:20 a. m.—Sergeant Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, has telegraphed the Russian embassy here that the Austrian defeat near Leuberg was much greater than at first appeared. The Austrians, in escaping, left on the battle field besides 25,000 men, nearly 200 cannons, flags, ammunition, cartridges and thousands of horses.

The Russian foreign minister adds that the Russians have also invaded Austria from Tomuscow.

At a whole, the Austrian division was practically annihilated. About 2,000 were killed, the general in chief and his staff. A large number of prisoners were taken, including several officers.

MEETS SPLENDID DEATH.

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, via London, Sept. 5, 2:32 p. m.—General Samoff met a splendid death after five days fighting in East Prussia. Being warned that his position was too exposed he replied:

"My place is where my men are." The general and most of his staff were killed by an exploding shell.

MILITARY RULE.

By Associated Press.

Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, has issued a general order providing for the military administration of a foreign territory as fast as it is occupied by the Russian troops.

The order calls for the creation of a special province, consisting of the territory occupied in Austria-Hungary, and the placing of it under the administration of the commander of the armies operating in the theater of the war in the southwest.

Be a Help to the Men That Are Helping Oakland

Week by week, in the name of The Church, which embraces all denominations, we have been urging the public to attend religious service.

More than once the answer has come back: "I went, but I did not like the preacher."

THE TIME HAS COME FOR A FRANK WORD.

We are not basing our appeals upon the ability of the preachers. We do not invite you to go to church to hear orations or essays. Nobody knows better than the preachers themselves how far short of their purpose many sermons come. All questions of human ability aside, even as a spiritual message for hungry souls—a word from God for those who seek the Father—the sermon is sometimes unsatisfactory.

Perhaps if the public knew how often the preacher agonizes in penitent prayer over this, they would be less censorious.

The cardinal truth of the matter is this: WE DO NOT GO TO CHURCH, PRIMARILY, TO ENJOY A GOOD SERMON. A CONGREGATION IS NOT A MERE AUDIENCE: a crowd met to hear a man talk. It is an assembly for the worship of God.

The preacher would be the last man to claim that it is by the wisdom and learning and eloquence of the pulpit that the Church has been brought thus far on her conquering way. Far, far from it.

THE CHURCH WOULD STILL BE THE CHURCH, AND CONTINUE TO LIVE, IF THERE WERE NO PREACHERS.

That seemingly extravagant statement is not made in disparagement of the ministry, but only to arrest attention to the vital truth that the Church is meant for the worship of God, for the fellowship of believers in Him and for edification in the Christian faith.

A church may be a good church, despite limitations in the pastor.

AN UNSATISFACTORY PREACHER IS NO SUFFICIENT EXCUSE FOR ABSENTING ONE'S SELF FROM CHURCH.

Speaking in behalf of the ministry, we ask men to go to church, not to hear a preacher, as an intellectual exercise, but to go for the worship of God, for the confession of sin and for the purpose of aligning themselves with the church in all her varied mission and ministry to the world.

THE WORSHIPER'S PRAYERS ARE OF MORE IMPORTANCE THAN THE PREACHING.

WHAT THE WORSHIPER THINKS ABOUT GOD IS A MORE VITAL MATTER THAN WHAT THE PREACHER SAYS ABOUT GOD.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE SOUL IS A GRAVER CONCERN THAN THE ALTITUDE OF THE SERMON.

And when all has been said, it still remains true that the pulpits of Oakland are occupied by men of godly life, who are not self-seekers; men whose supreme passion is to help their fellows to know God.

of the most serious foes of those who have been begotten to holiness of the spirit through the divine counsels and promises is the evil spirit of fear. It would persuade us that probably there is some mistake—either that God did not inspire the exceeding rich and precious promises or wrong spirit of doubt and fear—some more

BARKERS SNAPPING AT HEELS OF FREDERICKS.

Various newspapers in California are shouting at Captain John D. Fredericks, almost daily demanding that he declare what he stands for in this campaign. Johnson organs here and there are yelling themselves hoarse in their appeals to the Republican candidate. Some are insolent, others impudent, still others are snarling. In contrast with their utterances one can point to the calm, dispassionate, manly and dignified statement made by Captain Fredericks the day following the primary election:

This campaign will be one for the supremacy of the ideas and ideals of the Republican party. I believe in party government rather than personal dictation. The representatives of the Republican party will meet on September 15, according to law, and enunciate those principles which the assembled wisdom of the party agree upon as best calculated to promote the peace, progress and prosperity of the state.

There is the answer of a man to a lot of captious critics. Captain Fredericks realizes that he is the candidate of the Republican party, chosen by a decisive majority of its electors, and in duty bound to accept such platform as the wisdom of the men charged with the duty of platform making formulate. It will be noted that he believes and confidently expects this platform will stand for those actions in legislation as are best calculated to "promote the peace, progress and prosperity of the state."

But that is not all. Captain Fredericks as the nominee of his party expects to make suggestions concerning this declaration of principles. He adds:

I am confident that platform will be in keeping with and take into consideration the needs of the people; our changing conditions of life brought about by a more general education, tolerance and a desire that all classes in our citizenship shall share in the prosperity resulting from a Republican victory. The platform will be adopted by able men—the chosen leaders of the party. I HAVE IN MIND WELL DEFINED IDEAS ON MANY SUBJECTS WHICH I HOPE TO SEE INCORPORATED IN THE PLATFORM. I BELIEVE THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE AND THE PARTY WILL BE SERVED BY GIVING MY VIEWS FIRST IN DETAIL THROUGH THE PARTY PLATFORM. THIS SEEMS TO BE THE PROPER CONCEPTION OF THE PRESENT PRIMARY LAW.

There is the answer of the man who wants to share the duty of platform making with other men who will make the race with him; there is the answer of a man who stands for uplift for all and who desires that every citizen of the state, no matter what his or her political belief is, shall share alike in benefits. LASTLY, THERE IS THE ANSWER OF A MAN WHO IS A LAWYER, UNDERSTANDING THE PRIMARY LAW, who prefers to abide by law and refrain from making his campaign until the men of wisdom, including himself, shall have decided what is the best policy for California.

That straightforward expression should be answer sufficient to the claquers.

So far as the Democratic nomination for governor is concerned, it looks as if it was "Curtains" for all except the Tuolumne county man.

What's the matter with bestowing the Nobel peace prize on the good old U. S. A.?

Mohammedan Turkey engaged in the pacification of Christian Europe! Great scheme.

Those Nile Club athletes who are working to reduce themselves evidently believe in waisting their waists.

THRIFT PAYS: HERE ARE SOME EXAMPLES.

Leading men and women of Texas have formed "thrift committees," the object being the utilization of much valuable matter now allowed to go to waste. Bankers, members of chambers of commerce and others take a deep interest.

Examples of thrift are quoted, showing that it pays to take care of the small things. One of these is cited from Texas. A farmer owned a fifteen-acre apple orchard. With a cider press costing thirty dollars he ground his "cull" apples into juice which he changed to vinegar, netting his $425 annually. Previously he had allowed the "culls" to go to waste or be eaten by the hogs.

Another is cited from Ohio, where a Pennsylvanian bought some land, most of which was under water. The neighbors laughed at him, asking if he intended growing frogs. In a short time he had seventeen small ponds laid out which he stocked with gold fish. He sold the common varieties at from $10 to $40 a hundred, and some fancy specimens brought as high as $25 each. He has one million fish now and a good market. His neighbors are congratulating him on his "luck."

There is much that goes to waste that might be saved. Tons and tons of vegetation that might be made into denatured alcohol for fuel and illuminating purposes are wasted annually. Proper sorting of garbage pays New York City many thousands annually. Nothing is wasted that can be utilized. Cans are subjected to heat and the tin and solder-sealed, bones are sorted for knife handle varieties and for fertilizer, rags are collected, steamed, sterilized and sold for mattress making. Even the grease is recovered.

All this is in the line of thrift. It may look like small business, but it pays big dividends in the long run.

Let's reports from the battle fields across the Atlantic declare that Death is demanding adding machines.

IS KITCHENER RIGHT IN HIS PREDICTION?

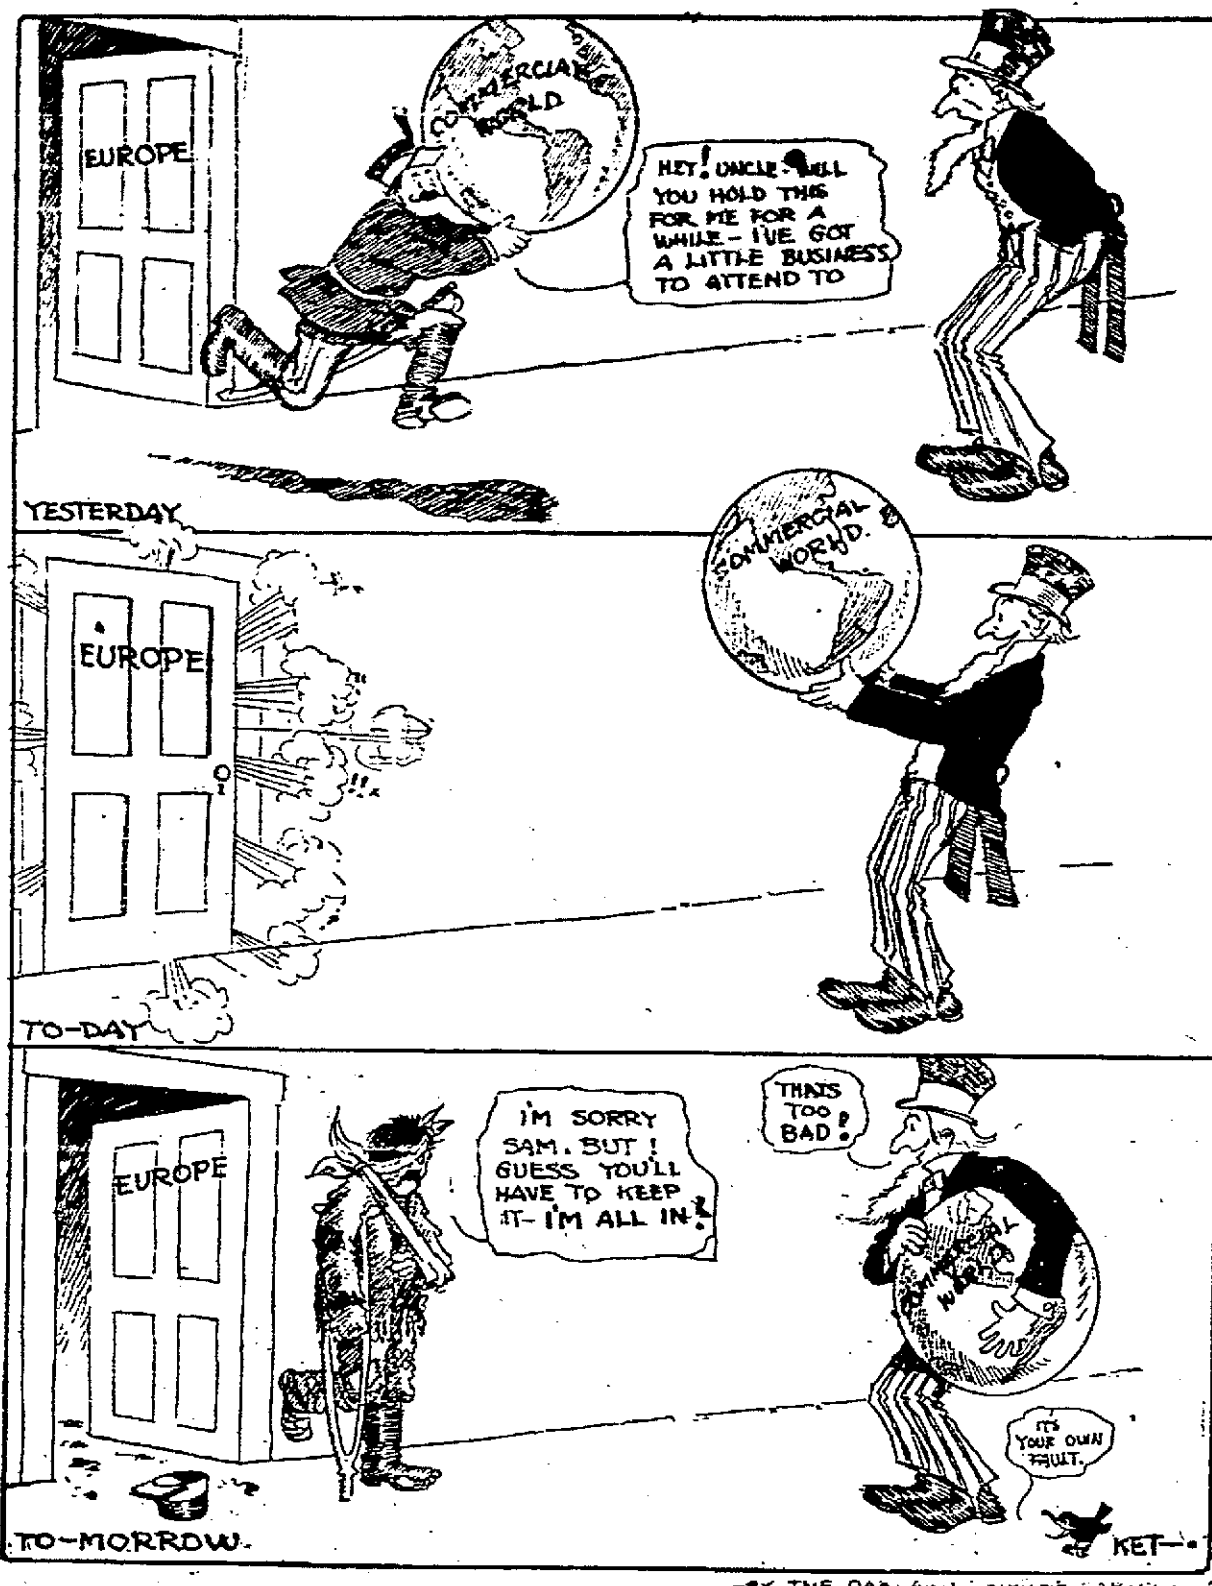

Lord Kitchener last week stated that the war might last three years. He made the statement with the dispassionate calmness that characterizes his conduct everywhere; made it to Parliament. He accompanied his remarks by the assertion that he had enlisted for the war and coolly informed his lords and gentlemen they must be prepared to make sacrifices of men and treasure.

Since that time it develops that Great Britain is developing an army for field operations of 600,000 men, a mighty undertaking when compared with anything attempted by that nation previously. But it is not impossible. The population in British dominions in Europe at the last estimate is nearly 45,000,000. England's dominions over seas are capable of sending a large contingent of men and England's dominions over seas are all loyal to the mother country. France, with a population of 40,000,000, has a force of nearly a million under arms and has called for 600,000 more. What France can do so also can England if the exigencies demand.

Kitchener is a soldier with a mind that works with the accuracy of a machine. He is cold, calm and indifferent to everything except the work he has in hand. It is not for him to display emotion or to count the cost of victory; all he figures on is victory, and in this instance he sees a long and bloody strife ahead of him.

It would be considered presumption to differ with Kitchener, but at the same time we do not believe the actual war will last three years. We think he made this statement with a view to impressing his hearers with the importance of the situation, for it is noted that he included in his statement: "No one can foretell for a certainty its duration" and appended a statement that others beside himself and associates might have to see the matter through. Kitchener doubtless desired to impress Parliament with the importance of preparing for an emergency and while taking steps to raise and equip an army, to be so thorough with the work that there should be no chance of failure.

It is difficult to see how this war can last three years, or even half that time. Some of the countries engaged will soon be strained to the limits of their possibilities. Already hunger is in sight. Supplies will be cut off and credit will vanish. It takes money to carry on a war. We believe the kaiser and his counselors debated this question before starting in on the march to Paris. That it was the intention of Germany to hammer France into submission at as early a date and in as short a time as possible. All the signs of the situation warrant such a conclusion. We believe also that Germany did not take England as seriously as circumstances warranted. But whatever may be the correct idea as to that, it is reiterated that we cannot see how this war can continue for three years, even if the necessary supplies and money were available, for at the rate the slaughter is going on the fighting forces will be exhausted long before that time.

It is pointed out that other contests were prolonged much longer, but the forces engaged were relatively much smaller and the distances traversed greater. Since the German advance into Belgium it appears to have been one continuous battle.

RAISES FINE DEER ON FARM IN CITY

He Doesn't Know Market Value of His Unusual Stock.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5.—William Tanner, town and country farmer, sat in the shade of the residence on his five-acre town farm on Prospect avenue.

"The deer are over there," he said, aiming his thumb at a rail pen fully seven feet high that incloses one corner of his town farm.

And the deer were certainly "over there"—splendid whitetail bucks, three does and four pretty white and tan fawns, in a brush park that gave the impression of their wild home, even if persons do constantly pass along the sidewalk and stop to peer at the unusual sight.

"And that doe had three babies this spring," said Tanner, indicating the oldest one of the herd.

"Two is not considered unusual, but three fawns is," he explained, "and in captivity at that."

"I got the deer four years ago," he said, "but for two years I kept them hatted and tied. Since I have let them out in the park they have begun to multiply. I lost one this spring, but the others are doing well."

The saying "as wild as a deer" seems to have been well founded. While these deer are in one of the best residence districts of the city and persons pass their pen each day, they never seem to get tame.

"Sometimes at feeding time the buck and doe will eat out of your hands, but you can't get near the fawns."

"If you were to try to catch them they would jump right over this fence and never touch it," and he raised his hand above his head full height to touch the top rail of the fence.

"Do they pay?"

"Oh, I don't know. I have no idea what they would sell for, but they are not for sale. I am just keeping them. They don't eat much, next to nothing. In fact, just a little corn chop and hay besides the grass they eat down there."

SAVES COMPANION AS BELL FALLS

Lad Pushes Playmate from Spot as 4000 Pounds Crash Down.

DENVER, Sept. 5.—William Bentley Burton, ten years old, displayed unusual presence of mind when the big bell that calls worshippers to service at Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church, Twentieth avenue and Glenarm street, broke from its fastenings on the tower in the rear of the church.

The bell, weighing 4000 pounds, crashed through its platform to the ground forty-five feet below and half buried itself in the earth a moment after the Burton boy pushed Edwin Sherwood, eleven years old, from the spot, saving him from being killed.

The two, both choir boys, were standing directly underneath the big bell, their hands on the rope. As it broke away the Burton boy felt it. He pushed his companion to safety and then leaped out of the way himself.

Pieces of the tower's braces struck them, and a piece of iron that controlled the bell's clapper struck the Sherwood boy in the back. At first it was believed he was injured dangerously, but at the county hospital Dr. George H. Lee said after an X-ray examination that he had sustained only minor cuts and bruises.

The Burton boy suffered only a bruised right arm.

The mothers of the two boys were in the crowd that surrounded them. While they bent over their sons the mother of the Sherwood boy looked intently at Mrs. Burton. Then she held out her hand.

"I think I know you," she said. "We went to school together fifteen years ago back at Jersey City. I have wondered for years where you were."

They had been schoolmates and chums as girls. The accident brought them together after each had written many letters and made many inquiries concerning each other's whereabouts.

"After all these years your boy saves my boy's life and we are brought together," Mrs. Sherwood said.

FAILS TO DEATH.

There was a merry time at the San Sound on Market and Eleventh streets, a children's party having been arranged by the guests of the house, Mrs. Pernin, the kind-hearted lady of the house, looked after the arrangements, which had all been carefully prepared by Mrs. F. The man who first opened communication between the besieged Parisians and the outside world in 1870, M. Dumof, has just been obliged to enter a Paris hospital, where he must soon die. He was an experienced aeronaut and offered to take the mail and the pigeons, which were to return, in his balloon beyond the Prussian lines. He landed safely at Evreux on September 23, but his balloon was ruined. For twenty-two years he never received a cent from the government and even his claim for the value of his balloon was left unnoticed. Last year he received a small allowance, which barely kept him from starving.

A FEW SMILES

Ebenezer Holcombe had a 1200-pound hog which he had exhibited in a tent at the fair for three years, charging 10 cents admission.

One day a traveling man who was passing through the town in which Mr. Holcombe lived called at the house and asked if he might see the hog of which he had heard so much. Ebenezer proudly led the way to the hoghouse, but at the door he turned, "Cost you 10 cents," he drawled.

The visitor took a dime from his pocket, passed it to the farmer and turned back.

"Why, you ain't seen the prize hog," said Ebenezer.

"Yes, I have," retorted the traveling man. "I've seen him."—Harper's Magazine.

Among those visiting an art exhibition recently in town was an old fellow who wandered about looking at the paintings with interest. Finally he stopped before a portrait which showed a man sitting in a high-backed chair. Tacked to the frame was a small white placard reading "A portrait of J. F. Jones, by himself."

The old man read the card and then chuckled sarcastically: "Vot fools is these beoples. Anybody dot looks at dot picture would know dot Jones is py himself. Nobody else is in dot picture."

NEW LEAGUE FOR DEBATE PROMISING

University Extension Department Expects Success From Latest Venture.

5. — A new high school debating league is now being organized by the bureau of public discussion of the extension division. This league will be open to all secondary schools in California. The State will be divided into a northern and southern division and each division will be subdivided into districts or groups. By a number of series of debates two cham-

The two winners will then meet in Berkeley for a final debate to determine the championship of California. Suitable prizes will be awarded to the school winning the State title.

The debating league will be under the direction of the university extension division, which will determine the questions for debate and will match schools for each series. It will act also in the capacity of arbiter for all disputes or protests that may arise between contestants.

Many State universities, notably Minnesota and Kansas, have been successfully conducting high school debating leagues for a number of years. A similar league under the direction of the University of California is expected to prove of much practical value in connection with the high public speaking in the high schools of California. This new movement is reducing the number of many of

HE first of the autumn wedding bells to ring sent out merry chimes this week for the marriage of Miss Barbara Bromwell and John Martin. An afternoon wedding is unusual, and it stands out on the list of weddings as something altogether unique.

The marriage of Mr. Martin and Miss Bromwell took place at the home of the bride's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tripler Hutchinson, in Nineteenth street. The picturesque home is surrounded by beautiful grounds, making possible many a fresco feature, which made the wedding most interesting.

The home of the Hutchinsons was very beautifully decorated, the prevailing color scheme being in pink and pale lavender, worked out by asters and hydrangeas. In the large drawing room the ceremony took place under a canopy of asters, beautifully arranged, with pedestals of asters arranged on either side of the improvised altar.

The wedding procession was led by choir boys from St. Paul's Church, and their fresh young voices sang in a beautiful fashion the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The pretty young bridesmaids made a charming picture, leading the way for the bride, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson (Gertrude Allen), made a most attractive wedding attendant.

Rev. Alexander Allen performed the ceremony in a very impressive way, and there immediately followed a wedding reception, in which there were good wishes and congratulations from many old friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Later the wedding party and guests adjourned to the lawns and verandas, and to the music of the orchestra there was dancing on the lawn, under the shade of the magnificent Himalayan cedar deodars. The scene was very picturesque, the wedding party making a wonderful study in the garden, amid the brightly colored flowers.

A wedding costume is often most trying, but it was most becoming to the bride of the day. One expected her to make a very sweet and charming young bride, but she was more than that—she was a very beautiful one, and she showed besides much dignity, repose and poise. The wedding gown of white satin was fashioned along very exquisite lines, and the wedding veil of white tulle was arranged in a most becoming and charming fashion. The bride's only ornament was a superb diamond pin, the wedding gift of the groom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, wore a very stunning costume, designed along unusual lines. It was a French color study in pink and blue, the skirt made short and very much ruffled, the ruffles outlined in dainty pink rosebuds; the corsage was of blue, and the hat to match was of an unusual and most becoming shape. A half-opened parasol filled with flowers added a finishing touch to a specially well designed costume.

It is rarely that one sees together so many pretty girls as in this bevy of young bridesmaids. Among them were the Misses Alice Palmer, Allene Edoff, Suzette Greenwood, Elva Ghirardelli, Katherine Bangs, Doris Bornemann, Helen Breck and Marian Barber.

The costumes of the bridesmaids were the most attractive seen here in many months, and specially becoming to the young girls for whom they were designed. The skirts of white chiffon were very short, and daintily ruffled, all the ruffles edged in pink. Very unique and dainty capes, a genuine Parisian effect, were fastened to the shoulders, and pink chiffon hats tilted to one side, in a picturesque manner, added to the effectiveness of the costume.

The bridesmaids each carried dainty muffs of pink chiffon, trimmed with pink ribbon, all of them fashioned by the deft fingers of Mrs. Hutchinson. Each bridesmaid carried a tiny basket of little pink rosebuds, and each wore the dainty pin which was the bride's gift to her attendants.

There was much regret at the absence of Miss Helen Dunning, who was to have been the maid of honor, Miss Dunning has been extremely ill, and she is with her father at the Fairmont, across the bay.

Mrs. Bromwell looked extremely well in a very becoming gown of lavender silk and chiffon, and Mrs. Charles R. Allen, who is one of the most beautiful matrons over here, made a lovely study in a gown of black and white tulle, the gown combined with chiffon and beautifully trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Richard Spain (Louise Bromwell) wore a Parisian gown of lovely ecru lace, made very fashionably and effectively planned.

Among the many guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Breck, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Taft, Miss Christine Taft, Miss Dorothy Taft, Mrs. George Porter Baldwin, Mrs. Ghirardelli, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bangs, Mrs. Louis Montague, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. J. Walter Scott, Miss Adele Scott, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Meehan, Miss Pauline Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. George Bornemann, Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lundborg, Mr. and Mrs. William de Fremery, Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. M. W. Kales, Mr. and Mrs. Brendon Brady, Mrs. Converse, Miss Gail Converse, Mrs. George de Golia, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stolp, Mrs. Louise Allender, Miss Runyon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly, William B. Dunning and Willard Barton. Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, parents of the groom, were present, and his brother was his best man.

The bride's going-away gown was a tailored effect in two shades of blue with a white hat to match, and it was most becoming.

The gifts to the young people were many and were displayed in one of the large rooms of the Hutchinson home. Mr. and Mrs. Martin have gone south on their wedding trip, and when they return they are to establish their home in this city. They have taken a residence on Moss avenue, and it bids fair to be the center of a successful and very happy home life.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of Harvard, and he has already taken his place in the business world with every assurance of success there along many lines of activities.

Several large affairs since her marriage and will be among the prominent hostesses of the winter. Mrs. Daniel Callahan was Miss Mary Torney before her marriage to the young navy officer a few weeks ago. She was one of the prettiest of the season's brides. Ensign and Mrs. Callahan are at Coronado, where the former has rejoined his ship, the Truxton.

Mrs. Millard J. Laymance is prominent in society and entertains a great deal at her attractive home in Linda Vista. Her daughter, Miss Grace Laymance, is a belle of the younger set and will be one of the brides of the year. Mrs. Laymance belongs to several of the smart bridge clubs.

Mrs. B. Franklin Miller was a belle of Salt Lake City society, whose wedding took place recently at the St. Francis. As Miss Gertrude Hanson she was well known in Oakland, where she had visited Mrs. G. R. Greene at the latter's home in Alice street on several occasions. Mrs. Greene was matron of honor at the wedding, that was a smart affair of last month.

PROMINENT FOLK ATTEND LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst was the hostess on Wednesday at a most elaborate luncheon given at the Palace hotel in honor of Mr. Baker, who has come from the east to carry on the great work planned by the Travelers' for her vice-chairman Frank Elger, and other members of her committee are Dr. George Pardee, Frederick Kahn, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Miss Grace Fisher, Mrs. H. M. Rowell, Mrs. Thomas Hogan and Mrs. F. E. Maiden.

All of these were Mrs. Hearst's guests, and others included in her invitation to the Palace luncheon in honor of Mr. Baker were William H. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. de Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Britton, Jesse Lillenthal, Mayor and Mrs. Rolph, Mayor and Mrs. Mott, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Mrs. Cora Jones, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Miss Laura McKinstry, Mrs. Annie Little Barry, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain.

Among the notable guests were larger one, which was presided over by Mrs. Hearst. The decorations were specially beautiful; on Mrs. Hearst's table the centerpiece was of American Beauty roses, and each table carried a different floral design. On one table were superb yellow chrysanthemums tied with great bows of yellow and brown ribbons. Another table carried decorations of beautiful "black-eyed Susans," and still another table was done in delightfully artistic asters.

After luncheon addresses were made by Mayor Rolph, Judge Baker, William Crocker, Jesse Lillenthal and Rabbi Meyer. But the finest address of the day was made by John A. Britton, or, as one of the Oakland guests said, "Our Mr. Britton." It touched a high standard of eloquence, and it was both helpful and inspiring. Mr. Britton is one of the finest orators on the coast.

Mrs. Hearst was charming as a hostess, for, as usual, her happiness lies in giving good times to other people. She was most beautifully gowned in lavender brocade velvet, trimmed in rare old lace. The luncheon was one of the very important social dates of the early autumn.

Judge Baker is to be the guest of many organizations on this side of the bay, and he will be entertained in the near future by the Commercial Club.

WOMAN TO DECK STATE BUILDING.

Apropos of the Panama-Pacific news, it has given many people pleasure to learn that Miss Florence Lundborg, the well-known artist, is to have charge of the interior decoration of the California building. The Woman's Board is to be the host of this building, so it is only fitting that this work of decoration be assigned to one of the best artists on the coast—to Miss Florence Lundborg. She is a sister of Irving Lundborg of this city.

RECITAL BY DOUGLAS SOULE.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the recital given by Douglas Soule in Berkeley last week. There was a very general desire to hear Mr. Soule, who has studied abroad for the past two years, and many prominent families from Oakland were in the audience which welcomed him at Berkeley.

His work ranks him already as one of the finest musicians on the coast, and he is an artist well worth while. In the first place, Mr. Soule, being a graduate of the University of California, has a fine education, and he has the fine measurements, the wide horizons, that travel so often brings. And he has the spark of genius, that has been kindled till the glow spreads in the sky of art, and success lies written there.

The introductory numbers were well given, and the final number, "Tarantelle" (Venezia e Napoli), by Liszt, aroused the audience to a fine pitch of enthusiasm.

Mr. Merchant sang beautifully, and was also well received, and as an accompanist Mr. Soule again did wonderful work. It was "musicality" and very beautifully sympathetic.

Mrs. Soule, Miss Bacon and Douglas Soule intended to go back to Germany this year, but their plans have all been changed, owing to the terrible war now raging in Europe.

COLOR ARTISTRY IN CALIFORNIA HOMES.

One thing that will be noticed by eastern visitors when they come here next year will be the artistic perception of color which is especially seen in the homes of the California smart sets. One finds it all over the state. For in California, beyond any state in the Union, is that wonderful love of color which is an inheritance from the old world, and the result of a magnificent state environment.

It is seen in what is called the approach to our leading homes. Great care is here shown in color schemes. One of the most attractive is found in the home of Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, who has kept the front facade of the house, and the garden surrounding it, all in a color scheme of pink. And in her garden, which is one of rare Aid Association. This work will hereafter be separate from that of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Panama-Pacific board.

Its scope and value is well understood, and it is one of the most important activities connected with the coming exposition.

A branch has been organized on this side of the bay, with Mrs. L. P. Crane at its head, and Mrs. Crane has Judge and Mrs. Angelotti, who received a most enthusiastic welcome from their many friends. Clubwomen were specially active on this side of the bay in promoting Judge Angelotti's political interests, and he has been most appreciative. They bid fair to go on with the good work.

The luncheon was served in the rose reception room of the Palace, small tables being grouped around the beauty, there are no clashing colors. One of the beds shows a most unusual scheme of blue. The approach to Arbor Villa is by means of a winding road, bordered with wide beds, in which thousands of violets bloom for several months in the year.

The Willis Kellys have consistently kept a color scheme of yellow, as befits a garden in keeping with a house of Spanish architectural design.

Mrs. Chabot's home is surrounded by a garden showing a most restful color scheme in green and yellow, and the Italian cypress, slender and tall, arranged in an avenue, lend dignity and charm to the design.

For almost a mile the approach to the Hacienda winds along a road bordered with magnificent palms, and running along at their feet in great beds are colorful verbenas and petunias.

Mrs. Louis Lilus is very fond of lavender; her drawing room shows a scheme of that color, and in her garden one finds it expressed in the great hydrangea bushes in pale lavenders. The lavender that is shaded with pink.

Gorgeous color schemes are worked out in superb canons, and Frank Havens has outlined the approach to his home by a great hedge of superb white La France roses.

One of the finest color artists in the world is, of course, Guérin, who has charge of all the color schemes of the great exposition. And he has a message for the hostess of the smart set that is most interesting. In a recent interview Mr. Guérin says:

"Color has a subtle effect upon us all whether we are conscious of it or not. It would ruin the whole Exposition to make the dominant colors blue or purple. It would ruin it financially. Such colors make even the most spendthrift close-fisted. It isn't merely because the women will not sit next to certain colors, like green, for example; it is also because, quite unconsciously, colors affect the spirits. Orange happens to be the best spending color. It produces a feeling of happiness and well being. Too much brightness on the other hand, has the opposite effect. It is confusing, although there were a number of brilliant talkers, the first evening was such a failure that my hostess asked me what I thought was the matter. The next evening, with her permission I shut off most of the many lights in her rather vast dining room and under the influence of the luminous glow of the candlelight concentrated upon the table, the house party behaved quite as was expected of it."

NED GREENWAY NOW HERO OF ROMANCE.

"Some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them"—and social greatness follows the same rule. In a recent book, comes a study from life of Edward Greenway, the social leader across the bay. To be sure in the book one reads of "Brownings"—and the cotillions are called "the Brownings." It is only a thin disguise for "Greenways" and the "Greenways." And the smart sets on both sides of the bay will be fussing for hours with his secretary over the list before he could personally give it to the hungrily waiting reporters with the weary statement that it was absolutely correct that no more names were to be added this year, that he did not propose to defend, through the columns of the press, his omission of certain names, and his acceptance of others, and that, finally he was off for a week's vacation in the southern part of the State, and thanked them all for their kindly interest in himself and his efforts for San Francisco society.

"It was the next morning's paper that was so anxiously awaited, and so eagerly perused in hundreds of luxurious boudoirs,—exalted over, or wept over and reviled—but read by nearly every woman in the city."

NEW BRIDGE GAME KEEPS FOLK BUSY.

Everyone is playing auction these days with the new count—with nullo—and with the dealer not declaring the trump. So the games are of unusual interest. With the first September days, some of the clubs have begun to play, and unusual interest is being displayed in the game. Large gatherings are also being planned this year, and there is talk of a "Bridge Tournament" such as the have in the East, and especially in Europe. Sometimes these tournaments are played in the evening, and they include the men. The same partners played together all the evening, and when they are good players they make wonderful scores. The first of the large card games is announced for September 16, when prominent members of St. Francis de Sales parish will give a large card party, for the benefit of parish work. Great interest is expressed in the affair, and one hears that there are over forty prizes, to gladden the hearts of successful players. A large attendance is expected, and this first card afternoon of the season bears every promise of being most successful.

WALTER SCOTTS IN TOWN FOR SEASON.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, after a delightful summer on the Russian river have closed their camp there and returned to town. Mrs. Scott and her daughter were guests at the Martin-Brown wedding on Wednesday, and Miss Adele Scott wore one of the most beautiful gowns at the wedding—a gown of white chiffon, very beautifully trimmed in lace—the bodice outlined in rhinestones.

NAVY SURGEON AND SOCIETY DAME WED.

An interesting wedding of today is that of Mrs. Henry Miles Bull and Dr. Rothganger, both of whom are well known in social circles around the bay. Dr. Rothganger is a navy surgeon, standing high in his profession, and very popular with his friends. His home has been for some months at the Fairmont.

Mrs. Henry Miles Bull is of the well known Chamberlain family, pioneers in Oakland, a family which did much to make successful the early progress of our city. Mrs. Bull belongs to many of our leading clubs and charitable organizations, and she is a member of a well known card club. Mrs. Frederick Morse entertained the members of this club last week, making her guest of honor, Mrs. Henry Miles Bull.

Dr. and Mrs. Rothganger have gone on a wedding trip to the Southern part of the state, and on their return they will make their home in the old family homestead on San Pablo avenue.

"BACK TO SOIL" IS FASHIONABLE NOW.

Napa county is rapidly becoming a favorite place for country homes for prominent people around the bay. Two years ago Lloyd Crellin purchased one of the large farms in Napa county, and has established his home there. He has studied in the agricultural department of the University of California, and he has already developed one of the leading farms in Napa county. All his family rejoice in his success, and they all spend a great deal of time on "the ranch." Over a hundred new fruit trees were planted this year, and in every way this farm bids fair to take the lead among the ranches of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. William Watt, (Oliver Middleton), have a delightful country home just outside of Napa. William Watt has developed one of the finest dairies in all that part of the country, and his efforts as a farmer have been crowned with unusual success. The Watts entertain every summer and among their guests are usually Mrs. Watt, and Mr. Watt's sisters, Mrs. C. O. G. Miller and Mrs. Donald T. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Moffitt have also a country home near Napa—a very picturesque place with orchard and garden all well developed. Mr. and Mrs. James Moffitt are spending some days there, and Mrs. Moffitt plans to remain for part of the autumn. She is entertaining Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, and she will have as her guests also, the Misses Genevieve and Natalie Fore. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teague, (Marguerite Butters), have also purchased a fine old family home near St. Helena. It was occupied some years ago by the Butters family, and is a most picturesque place. The Teagues live in Fresno, but they plan to spend part of each summer, during the heated months, in this pleasant country place near St. Helena.

FINE DANCING IS ESOTERIE NO MORE.

A wall goes up from the heart of vaudeville, and from the professional dancer—for there are now many rivals for dancing favors. One of the "professionals" writes in all seriousness: "Truth to tell in the public ballroom the professional is passe though his or her vogue persists in the theater."

"On the public dancing floor there are today thousands of couples who dance as well or better than did the blazing ballroom stars of a year ago. We of vaudeville know scores of young couples who, if they went upon the stage, would show up many of the featured couples now earning excellent incomes as exhibition dancers. Where a year ago the dazed youth and maiden gazed eagerly and enviously at the intricate steps, they now bounce upon the floor themselves, and do the thing even better."

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS ALICE HALL.

One of the important engagements of the week was that announced by Mrs. Samuel P. Hall, who gave the news of the many friends of the family of the engagement of Miss Alice Hall to Lieut. Rapp Brush of Manila. Since the return of the Halls from the Far East they have been at their summer home at Felton, so very few of their friends know of the happy engagement.

The Halls have always had a most happy home life. There have been many children, and they have grown up under ideal home influences. The late Judge Hall was much beloved, and with Mrs. Hall he made home a happy place for his children. And they have all been successful—the men have chosen professional careers, and the girls of the family have been charming, and very well worth while.

MRS. B. FRANKLYN MILLER (GERTRUDE HANSON), WHOSE WEDDING WAS A RECENT EVENT AT THE ST. FRANCIS.

and garden all well developed. Mr. and Mrs. James Moffitt are spending some days there, and Mrs. Moffitt plans to remain for part of the autumn. She is entertaining Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, and she will have as her guests also, the Misses Genevieve and Natalie Fore. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teague, (Marguerite Butters), have also purchased a fine old family home near St. Helena. It was occupied some years ago by the Butters family, and is a most picturesque place. The Teagues live in Fresno, but they plan to spend part of each summer, during the heated months, in this pleasant country place near St. Helena.

Miss Alice Hall is one of the younger girls of the family, and she has only just finished formal school days. While in Manila Mrs. Hall and her daughters had a lovely home, just outside the city. They were in mourning, and not in the formal social round, but their stay in Manila was made most interesting, as Mr. and Mrs. Whipple Hall, (Ethel Crellin), make their permanent home there. And in Manila, Miss Alice Hall met Lieutenant Brush, and the romance begun in the Far East has added another chapter, in the announcement yesterday. One hears that the wedding of Lieutenant Brush and Miss Hall will take place in the spring.

There will be many complimentary affairs for this attractive young bride-elect. She is popular with members of the younger set of girls, and there are many relatives to make the days of her engagement very happy ones. The Halls have opened the old family home on Fourteenth street, and are established there for the winter.

EXPECTED NEWS OF RETROTHAL COMES.

Another engagement (but this one was no surprise), is that announced of Herbert Schmidt and Miss Marian Stone. Their friends have expected it, almost ever since Miss Stone made her debut. Herbert Schmidt is well known on this side of the bay, for he comes from the University, and is a great friend of well known young men over here. He is an only son, and he has already started on his business career.

Miss Marian Stone is one of the most attractive girls in social circles around the bay. She is a graduate of Miss Spence's school in New York, and she is extremely bright and attractive. She is devoted to athletics—she swims well, and puts up a good score at golf.

The Stones lived so long on this side of the bay that many good wishes go to the bride-elect from friends who know her in her early school days.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN NUMBERS STILL.

There has never been a year when so many Americans have been abroad, and of course, friends here are very anxious concerning travelers who have not reached America. Mrs. Charles D. Bates has not received word from her daughter, Mrs. George Martin whose home is in Berlin. Dr. and Mrs. George Martin (May Bates), have lived for many years in Berlin, and they have also a lovely country home outside the city. They are among the best known of the American residents in Berlin, and they would in all likelihood be safe, as they know the consuls and ambassadors. Their eldest son was to have come to America this year and to have entered as a student in the University of California. The Bates hope to hear news of the safety of the Martins in the near future.

Mrs. Wildemann (Mrs. Mary Fairweather), has not heard from her daughters, who were in Paris, and who were making a great success there, and another American, who is most prominent in Paris, and who has been obliged to remain there is Mr. William S. Daliba, president of the American Express company.

Mrs. Easterbrook and Miss Smith consider themselves safe in Christiana, but in the Northern European countries the armies are mobilizing, and Mrs. Easterbrook's friends wish that she and Miss Smith were once more safe on American soil.

At last accounts, Mrs. Andrew McCreery and Miss Violet Whitney were in Paris. They were on their way to England to visit the McCreerys there, but were delayed, and were trying to return to Mrs. McCreery's summer home on the shores of Lake Como.

Unfortunately Mrs. Wm. Crocker and Miss Ethel Crocker were delayed in London by the illness of the latter, and they will try to reach America by an early steamer. The safest method is to try to reach Canada. That is the way the Waldrons crossed the Atlantic, and they were met by Mrs. Cockcroft in Montreal.

Miss Waldron and Miss Cockcroft are to spend the coming year in an Eastern school, their mothers returning in the near future to the coast.

WEDDING JOURNEY PLAN IS ALTERED.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jorgenson (Florence Orr), who started for Paris on their wedding trip, have changed all their plans. Mr. Jorgenson was to have studied for two years in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, but the war has changed his plans. The Jorgensons have gone to Boston, and Mr. Jorgenson is enrolled in the famous school of Technology there.

People have been glad to return home this year. They have proved for themselves how much truth underlies the oft quoted line, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder"—and indeed with war's troubled shadow lying long on the land, "there is no place like home."

How sweet to prod a throbbing dome
When there is no idee at home,
How sweet, & say, to prod
A hollow, vacant, empty bean
For whimsies bright and chlo and keen

How sweet to woo bloomin' moss
Tud have her bakily refuse
To mase a single bit;
And spite her antics have to write

Supposed to be a shaft of light—
Ah, that's the dence of it.

For when it comes upon the field
With college writers in its wake
They'll maim and fray
And wound and slay—
The very idea makes me quake.

I read enough of war and blood

And countless slain and all of that,

Will make that battle stuff sound flat

TO CHANGE VENUE OF BARNES' SUIT

Motion Papers in Alleged Libel Action Against Roosevelt Are Served.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Word reached here last night that papers had been served in New York today on William Irving, counsel for Theodore Roosevelt, in the motion for a change of venue in the $50,000 suit for alleged libel brought by Barnes against Theodore Roosevelt as the result of political utterances of the former President in connection with the present gubernatorial campaign.

It was stated here that the arguments in the motion would be made before Supreme Court Justice Chester in Albany on September 12. The change of venue is sought by Roosevelt on the ground that in the suit could not be held in Albany county, because that is where Barnes lives.

It is understood that much of the material in Colonel Roosevelt's reply will be used in the argument before Justice Chester, and in that manner will be placed before the public. The former President has thus far refused to make known the text of his reply, which covers 103 printed pages, and it is said, goes exhaustively into the political career of Barnes.

Colonel Roosevelt will leave Oyster Bay on Saturday afternoon for New Orleans, where he will speak Monday night, starting back for New York Tuesday night after an automobile trip.

TO HONOR DR. KIBBE.
FRUITVALE, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Jessie A. Smoot of Fruitvale avenue will give a reception in honor of Dr. Minora Kibbe, Tuesday, September 14. The members of the Joaquin Miller Club have been invited to meet Dr. Kibbe, and a social afternoon will be spent.

PIEDMONT CIVIC CLUB IN SESSION

Legislative and Educational Measures for Improving Matters Discussed.

Piedmont women are on the edge of their seats as they listen to the legislative and educational measures for improving the state and for raising the level of public health, mental efficiency, moral understanding, and the members of the Piedmont Civic Club yesterday afternoon.

Law for the commitment of dangerous lunatics, laws preventing the marriage of the unfit, the building of institutions for the feeble-minded, the establishment of a state school for the blind, were among the subjects discussed. Mrs. Victor H. Case, a well-known educator, addressed the club on the subject of "The Child in the Home." She said that the child is the most important person in the home, and that the parents should be careful to give him the best of everything. She said that the child should be taught to be obedient, to be honest, to be brave, to be kind, to be generous, to be self-controlled, to be self-reliant.

THOUGHT AWAKENING AGENTS.
Describing the methods used to bring subnormal children to normal efficiency, Mrs. Hicks mentioned folk dancing, physical exercises, hand work, including cooking, for boys and girls, and psychological games as important thought awakening agents. There are fourteen of these special classes. Speaking of the happiness of the children developing under her direction, Mrs. Hicks urged the mothers to prevent these classes being referred to as "crazy classes" or "lunatic classes" or allowing any similar stigma to be put upon the members.

Mrs. Dane Coolidge, former professor of sociology at Stanford University, author of "Why Women Are So," discussed the subject of "The Woman's Place in Society." She said that the woman's place in society is not a fixed thing, but a thing that is constantly changing. She said that the woman should be a citizen, a worker, a mother, a wife, a friend, a neighbor, a patriot, a Christian.

VALUE OF EDUCATION.
Emphasizing the value of education as a safeguard, Mrs. Coolidge said that there was no time to wait for a properly educated generation to grow up before some protection was provided for the young against temptation. In the past the attack against the social evil has been against the woman alone, because of a universal belief and a double standard. An attack against the property owner was the only effective attack, and in support of her statement that the Red Light Abatement act was not a local freak movement, she cited the success with which similar acts had been tried in eleven other states.

During her speech Mrs. Coolidge pointed out the inadequacy of the French system of regulation and segregation which "old fashioned persons" wished to substitute against any other form of legislation on the subject.

Separated districts, the military systems, regulation, clinic and police supervision to Napoleon, who was "the first man to see that some attempt must be made to suppress the social evil."

"Nothing is hopeless so long as women can instruct their sons," remarked Mrs. Dane Coolidge in the course of her remarks.
